Helping Engineers Solve Problems

Welcome to the Hawaii Building Engineers Association (HBEA) site.

This site will continue to evolve as more features get added for members and we add to the list of vendors. You can already read about the mission of HBEA and find membership applications for professionals in the building engineers field as well as an application for those in the related trade or vendor industry.

We look forward to the growth of this organization as a support network and welcome your comments and input. Please be sure to let your colleague's know about this site and the HBEA.

This web site will function in many ways like a communication tool for our organization. Please let us know if you have suggestions or feedback.
